The fans of Among Us have won a mod to have even more fun in the game. A player has created a mod that adds four classes in the game, Extra Roles. The classes are Doctor, Engineer, Officer and Joker.

Each of these professions has special abilities within the game. The Doctor protects another player with an unbeaten shield until he dies. The Medium can also investigate bodies if it gets to him quickly.

The Engineer can disable or prevent sabotage for once in the game and can also use the ventilation ducts that are scattered across the map. The Officer can shoot any player, but dies if he hits a crew member, and the Joker wins the game if he is kicked off the ship.

Like every year, Google disclosed the most searched topics by Brazilians on the search platform. Among the games, Among Us appeared as the most sought after title in Brazilian lands.

A roaring public success, innersloth's game figured at the top of the search among Brazilians in the issue of games. By the end of August, Among Us was with low interest, but from the beginning of September the title emerged in the polls by the end of the year.

In addition to Among Us, valorant, Fall Guys, Genshin Impact and The Last of Us are listed.
